The story begins at the present time. Our main character is named Nexo. He is the top player of a game called "Wrath of Legends". WOL is a fictitious MMORPG. These are the top player of the game.

Top 1: Nexo

Top 2: Pseudo

Top 3: Pheta

One day Nexo decided to play the game. While playing, he noticed that the game has changed and some unknown NPC's are in the game scene. A dialog box suddenly popped out asking "would you like to debug the game? This quest will require other top players to help you" He clicked yes and the player got sucked into the game. Unfortunately, Pseudo also included himself because of the unknown reasons.

The player awoke in the game with the other two top players Pseudo and Pheta. Both are also stuck in the game. They were at the village of Eankor and the townspeople were panicking. The village was raided by Minions.

The top 3 then searched for weapons and began to clear the village. After clearing all Minions, a host virus abducted Pseudo and Pheta and Nexo are left alone. Nexo was thanked by a villager. And you sought to save both of the player. Nexo was told that the two are transported to the Fort because the rook virus is there. Nexo tries to get outside the town but the gate was closed due to the fear that viruses can come back the only way to get out is to find the geeneral key. The key is held by the general. After getting the general key Nexo got out of the village of eankor and now he travels to the market

He arrived at the market and fought remaining minions there and after clearing the minions. The market was like a ghost town as no people is present. There Nexo founds a dead guy and he acquired the preview. The preview is a device that can see future actions of a generic virus and he then move on to the passage way to the fort but as he was walking he saw a Drone virus at the passage way. He then fought the virus. Using the preview he fought the drone virus by countering his attacks using a script by defeating the virus Nexo proceeds to the passage way where the fort lies.

Nexo arrived at the fort and it was heavily guarded by minions. He attacked the minions and after killing the minions, he entered the fort and found a great door. Inside was a rook virus and a loophole. A loophole is a passageway to another world. Nexo defeated the rook virus using his script and now he must enter to the loophole because his two friends were not seen in the fort.

Nexo was transported to the Underworld. There were more vicious minions inside the underworld. He found the host virus that captured his two friends. He fought the virus and acquired some information that his two friends is in the Na'rak the deepest world in WOL. The quest then continues and he found a underworld guy named steven and he found out that the underworld has a loophole to the Na'rak at the 3rd level so he must continue to travel up until the last bit. Steven gave Nexo a general key again to access the whole under world but in one condition. Nexo must find Harvey one of the members of the Underworld Council and must persuade him to reassign steven in the council. Reassigning requires 3 orbs. An orb is a powerful force acquired from dead villager. Nexo must find dead villagers in the area and after finding the orbs he must go to Harvey and present the orbs. Harvey then ask who must be elected to council. Nexo said Steven and steven then gave the general key. Steven then commends Nexo to Harvey because he is going to fight and end the plague of the virus. Harvey gave some skills to Nexo this is the "If" function a script that reads glitchy preview results.

Nexo went to the first passage way and found a drone virus. He fought the virus but as he was fighting the preview glitched and Nexo uses the "If" to counter-attack the glitched functions.

He arrived at the second level of the underworld. There, dead villagers were sleeping and when they are awake this villager will attack and kill anyone who passes by. Nexo must safely pass this maze-like structure without catching attention of the dead villager at the end of the maze was a puzzle like structure to be solved and to open the gate. After nexo opened the gate, he stealthly went behind the bushes and secretly heard a conversation.

Guard 1 "Someone is taking over Narak"

Guard 2 "Yes i know it's the viruses"

Guard 1 "No, I think it's more than that. Two players have been held captive of the master virus in Narak. I don't know why and what is the motive but there must be a conspiracy set to kill the overlord and to dominate the brain. The overlord must take heed this may lead to his early death"

Guard 2 "I must warn him"

Guard 1 "Make haste!"

Guard 2 "Yes sir"

Guard 1 & 2 leaves

Nexo is assured that his friends are in the Narak.

Nexo tries to understand the conversation. "It's more than just a virus attack?"

Nexo continues with the journey as he was passing the passage way to stage 3 of the underworld a drone virus was encountered. He defeated the virus and straightway went to the Stage 3 where the Underworld Castle is found the overlord lives there as he was entering the area he saw Guard 2 dead and acquired a "loop" function where you can repeat an action in a script battle.

The castle was heavily guarded by undead minions. Nexo entered the castle and found and defeated the rook but also found the Overlord dead lying on the floor he got the key to the Narak

At the narak , there was a terrible vibe and there were the first Rook Virus which was now more powerful he defeated it by script battle and after that another Rook virus and he also defeated it through script battle and after that he faced the master virus. This was the main virus which led to the destruction of the villages and towns of the overworld.

He, with all his strength defeated the master virus and he found Pheta and the key to the brain. but Pheta warned Nexo it was cut when the main virus regenerated and now after defeating Pseudo appeared and it was found out that pseudo is the one controlling all the viruses and at that moment they had a conversation

Nexo : Why have you done this? WHY make such great destruction?

Pseudo : I have no choice but to end it all, you have been always the top player and i was always at the second but now its my chance to be the top 1, I will dominate the brain and will erase you and your friend and you will be erased forever with the game

Nexo: No don't do that, I can retire if you want just don't kill us

Pseudo: I've come this far there's no more choice but to end you.

Pseudo then goes to the brain but its Nexo that is going to stop Pseudo in a physical battle and they fight

After that pseudo collapses and drops the brain key now Nexo have a chance to get to the brain before pseudo to reset all that happened and delete all viruses. Nexo raced to the Brain with Pheta behind him and he entered the key and as the key entered. The Narak suddenly collapses and Pseudo is in great danger because he is unconscious. a portal opens to the real world and Pheta and Nexo saves Pseudo and entered the portal the game crashes and they were all out of the game

The computer threw up Nexo, Pheta and the unconscious Pseudo and they were all safe Nexo hugged Pheta and pseudo is left unconscious with the portal still opened in the computer screen the master virus regens and tries to get out of the game to the real world. Nexo shutdown the computer and the virus with the game and all collapses and their our story ends
